

A PERSONAL WORD

From the Coile family

April 10, 2024

Beloved friends in the LORD,

Our lives were upended again on March 4, when the doctor told us that my tumor had returned. I had my second brain surgery within a year of the first one on March 25. Cancer is a scary place, a deep valley of dark shadows and whispers of death; but God is faithful and true, a very present help in trouble. We are hurting, but we are not abandoned. My grateful list is long. My future is in the Lord's capable hands. Janet is a strong embodiment of love, grace and toughness. I love her so much. Our children have been so strong in the Lord. They continually build my hope of sustaining the truth to future generations. Our family is united in this journey and determined to keep on serving the Lord.

We are praying fervently to the Lord for healing so that we can continue serving Him. We accept His will while praying for a miracle. He does all things well.

We covet your prayers and welcome tips and news of possible medical treatments. I'm so thankful for you, our support family, and all you are doing to help us in the Lord. God's comfort is extended and multiplied through you as we serve the Lord together.

We have a busy summer planned if the Lord wills, with both Eden and Josiah taking on major new roles at our youth camps at Grace Farm. I have no greater joy than seeing my children walking in truth and serving alongside me. God is so good! He fills my eyes with tears of gladness.

We love you all and hope to enjoy sweet fellowship in Christ again soon.
